Grand Juror Asked For A Roast

KIDWELL SAYS SOME ONE LEAKED, BUT THE COURT DECLINES TO CRITICIZE BLINDLY.

Grand Juror John Kidwell had a kick when the jury went to Judge De Bolt's court at noon today to make its final report. Deputy Attorney General Milverton stated to the court that the jury wanted to know if a report to the court should be made in the case of a person speaking to a juror about an indictment already found. The judge thought that unless the case was an aggravated one it did not call for action. It was as if someone should tell him his decision was bad, after he had given it,—he would simply tell such a person to go to the Supreme Court and reverse it.

Kidwell rose in the jury box to say that some juror must have revealed secrets, to enable the party in question to speak to a juror as he had done. Kidwell thought the judge ought to severely roast the juror. De Bolt didn't know who he was. Kidwell said just anyhow. De Bolt said he wanted to be the right person. A general roast would be roasting all the innocent ones. "However," he added, "if the juror who gave away the secrets, if there is one, will rise, I will administer a rebuke."

Kidwell sat down. No one else rose, and the incident closed.

Sale of a Big Water Company

THE CONTRA COSTA WATER CO. SUPPLYING OAKLAND, BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA SOLD.

From Files by the S. S. Nevada.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—The Contra Costa Water Company, which includes not only the sources of supply for the city of Oakland proper, but for Alameda, Berkeley and other small towns in their vicinity as well, has been sold to the Realty Syndicate for $11,000,000.

Frank C. Havens, Vice-President and General Manager of the syndicate, is now on his way East to finance the deal.

The details of the transaction have been carefully shielded by all concerned, especially by the confidential operators for William J. Dinger, the head and front of the Contra Costa monopoly.

Outside of Frank Havens and President F. M. Smith of the Realty Syndicate, practically no one else associated with that corporation knows anything whatever about the purchase.

CANE FIRES ON MAUI

KAHULUI, June 20.—On Friday last the 16th two small cane fires occurred on Central Maui both near together. One was in the Kailua fields of the Maui Agricultural Co., where about 10 acres was consumed, and the other was in a field of the Kihel Plantation just beyond where some 30 odd acres were burned. As the cane was fully matured and being cut the loss will be practically nothing.

WAS A VAG

An indictment for vagrancy, against Minieka, was one of those returned by the Grand Jury today. Minieka is now dead. He is a victim of the Japanese cutting affray at Wailua. He is said to have been a pimp, driven out of town by the recent move against men of his class by the federal authorities, and if he had not been killed he was to have been prosecuted as a vag. The indictment setting forth that for six months past he had had no visible legal means of support.

ATTACKS DOYLE'S AFFIDAVIT.

The Circuit Court proceedings in the Myda murder case, which is said to involve a feud between rival gangs of Japanese pimps, began today before any indictment had been found, by a motion filed by A. S. Humphreys, to secure the release of one Tani Minieka, a Japanese woman, held as a witness. The motion is based on an affidavit by Humphreys stating his knowledge and belief that the affidavit of Doyle, on

SHIPPING AT KAHULUI HARBOR

THE MASSACHUSETTS WILL FINISH LOADING THIS AFTERNOON AND LEAVES FOR HILO.

KAHULUI, Maui, June 20.—The ship Fort George at Kaunapali finished discharging on Saturday last, the 16th, turning out 2992 tons of coal, or 48 tons short of the entry made which was 2740 tons. She has now taken on 1100 tons of sugar and expects to tow around to Kahului on Friday to finish her cargo.

The Manga Reva is at Kaunapali loading now, and will be ready for sea next week.

The schooner F. M. Slade finished putting out her lumber on Monday and sailed for Kaunapali yesterday to load sugar.

The ship Hawaiian Isles at Kahului is nearly loaded and will be ready for sea on Friday, and if she can complete her crew here will get away that day. Otherwise she expects to sail Saturday.

The big freight steamer Massachusetts arrived at Kahului from Honolulu yesterday morning and will be loaded by tomorrow afternoon when she will sail for Hilo. She takes 2500 tons of sugar at Kahului.

MAIL DUE TOMORROW.

Mail is expected tomorrow afternoon from San Francisco on the transport Thomas. She left San Francisco June 10, so ought to have six days later mail.

GROSS CHEAT

An indictment was returned by the Territorial Grand Jury today against the bonding or subscription company known here under the name of the Prudential, understood to be a successor of the Fidelity Funding Company of San Francisco. The concern is the one referred to in the jury's report as a get-rich-quick concern, such as the legislature should protect the public from by new laws.

The Prudential Company is the one with which Nat Weinberg was connected while here, and he is understood to have been associated in the business with R. Weedon, who is now on Maui.
